Boxing Board Will Pay Of Miske-Gibbons

Muldoon Holds Inquiry Tomorrow; Fighters Expect Purse To Be Released

By Jack Lawrence

yesterday the money that was to have been paid Tom Gibbons and Billy Miske den on Friday night will be turned over for their fight at Madison Square Garden on Friday night will be turned over to the fighters to-morrow or Tuesday. The cash was held up by order of William Muidoon, chairman of the Boxing Commission, following the disqualification of Gibbons after he had atruck an alleged foul blow that brought the fight to a close in the tenth round. At Madison Square Garden yesterday. Tex Rickard expressed the opinion that the money would be released by the commission as soon as the authorities had questioned Referee Kid McPartland and the managers of both fighters.

There were large wads of cash lost on Gibbons and those who had backed him were raising loud wails yesterday. When the alleged foul blow was struck Gibbons looked to be a certain winner and his backers were all ready to count their winnings. If the fight had continued there would have been small chance of Miske being returned a winner. Many of those at the ringside were of the opinion that he would have been lucky to avoid a knock-out. The fact of the matter is that Gibbons was handing his fellow townsman, such a fierce pasting that Miske probably welcomed the opportunity to conclude hostilities as easily and as quickly as possible. There were assertions made yesterday by spectators that Miske "quit cold" and wasn't even hurt by the wallop that was said to have been low. That he was hurt, and hurt badly, was plainly evident. Few persons at the ringside saw the alleged foul committed. If the punch was low it was borely noticeable. The sudden ending of the fight appeared to leave Referee McPartland in a daze. He made a movement with his right arm as though he were going to count over the fallen figure of Miske, but when he saw that the timekeeper was making no attempt to 'oll off the seconda he finally ordered ('bbons to his corner.

with the St. Paul scrapper. Gibbons has gone back to St. Paul, where his father died while Friday night's battle was still in progress. Miske, however is still in the city and will appear before the commission with his manager on Monday morning.
